

VACANCY

Job title:	Senior Research Clinician
Type:	Permanent <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Fixed Term <input type="checkbox"/> Temporary <input type="checkbox"/>
Main purpose of the job:	To lead and implement research projects, analyse research data and publish scientific articles.
Location:	22 Esselen Street, Johannesburg, Hillbrow.
Closing date:	16 July 2024
Submit detailed CV to:	Vacancy23@wrhi.ac.za
Advert reference number:	NQM020-2024
In accordance with our Employment Equity goals and plan, preference will be given to suitable applicants from designated groups as defined in the Employment Equity Act 55 of 1998 and subsequent amendments thereto.

We are looking for a dynamic and motivated individual with a passion for women's health to lead a new study, investigating single dose HPV vaccination strategies for women living with HIV in southern and eastern Africa.

Key performance areas

- Oversee the management and implementation of the study in accordance with the protocol.
- Provide technical assistance (tool development and training) in HPV vaccination strategies to key stakeholders.
- Provide leadership in the area of sexual and reproductive health and other STIs.
- Publish scientific articles.
- Contribute to new grants development.
- Supervise postgraduate students.

Required minimum education and training

PhD in appropriate discipline and/or MBBCH with a public health higher degree.

Professional body registration

HPCSA Professional body registration or as applicable.

Required minimum work experience

- Minimum 5-8 years research experience, with a particular focus on HIV or STI programmes/ trials.
- Management of research programme/ clinical trials with a research record of an ongoing output evidenced by at least eight published refereed papers.
- Membership of Professional/School/Faculty/ Department Committees and/or taking leadership roles in the Public Health domain within the Public or NGO sectors.
- Self-motivated, able to work independently and work as part of a multidisciplinary team.
- Experience with local SA regulatory guidelines.

Desirable additional education, work experience and personal abilities

Experience in public health will be an advantage.

Certification in good clinical practice.

Experience working in a low or middle income country.

Experience in implementing independent projects.

Familiarity with data analysis software.

Ordered, systematic and analytical in approach to research .

Tactful, respectful and non-judgmental.

Good administrative skills with working knowledge of Microsoft Office.

Able to work under pressure and adhere to deadlines.

Demands of the job

National and international travel required from time to time.

May be required to work long hours overtime/weekends.

Working in limited resources environment.

Work in a highly pressurized environment.

Maintain a positive attitude and respond openly to feedback.

Take ownership for driving own career development in attending.

training and development sessions and relevant forums/meetings.

Maintain and update knowledge of developments in field and expertise.

Should you be interested in applying for this vacancy, please send an email to vacancy23@wrhi.ac.za. The subject heading of the email must read NQM020-2024 and the job title of position applying for. Please include the following documentation:

- A cover letter (maximum one page) that clearly states which vacancy you are applying for
- A detailed CV